Re-Determination on Social Insurance Premium

Social Insurance is paid by employee and company. Premium is calculated by multiplying the standard monthly salary by the Social Insurance rate. Every year, the standard monthly salary is determined based on the average salary of April, May and June, and it's applied from the month of September. Actual deduction begins the following month, so re-determined premium is deducted from October salary. In addition, insurance rate of employee pension has been increased every year since 2004, and it will be slightly increased September 2017 as well.
