30th Anniversary!

Shin-Ei Sogo Service has celebrated its 30th anniversary in May. We thank to our customers and everyone working with us. We are grateful from the bottom of our hearts. We are sending candies to you with gratitude. We promise our continuous efforts for foreign people living and working in Japan. Due to the coronavirus, we are facing very difficult times, both companies and employees. We must overcome together!

Be Careful of Heat Stroke

It's getting sweaty weather, especially during daytime. At that time of year, we hear about the heat stroke a lot on the news. When wearing a mask, it is difficult to inhale cool air and to cool your body, so it could increase your body temperature. In addition, masks can make it difficult to perceive thirst and heat stroke. Thus, wearing the mask can increase the risk of heat stroke. If you can keep enough social distance (2 m or more) outside, it might be better to take off a mask. Also, avoid heavy-duty work and exercise when wearing a mask.

Moreover, practice the basic measures against heat stroke. Hydrate yourself frequently. If you feel thirsty, you might already have the heat stroke. So, hydrate yourself regularly even if you are not thirsty. It is also important to maintain a health care routine. Measuring your body temperature allows you to observe any signs of changes in physical condition. Finally sleep well and avoid exercise and being outside during

Maternity Leave

Those who have been working for us more than 1 year are entitled to the maternity leave. If you meet the requirements, you can receive the childcare leave benefits through employment insurance. However, to receive them, you must have worked at least 11 days/month (including paid day-offs) in at least 12 months of the past 2 years before maternity leave. For example, if you have been working for Shin-Ei for 1.5 year but with many absences, you may not meet the requirements. If you had the employment insurance in other companies before Shine-Ei, those periods can be added to the calculation.

In addition to the requirements mentioned above, there are other detailed requirements as well. If you are pregnant and would like to have maternity leave after birth, please contact the Shin-Ei office.
